

WILL FIGHT FOR CRANEY ISLAND

Norfolk and Portsmouth Will Join Hands in Having Detention Camp Retained.

WANT THE ORDER RESCINDED

The Matter Will Probably be Threshed Out in the Federal Courts.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., June 8.—Norfolk and Portsmouth will have to fight, and fight hard, if they wish to retain Craney Island, at the entrance to the Elizabeth river, as a place for the detention of the afflicted with pestilential diseases, even should the cities be successful in getting rescinded the recent order issued by the National Government for the abandonment of the island.

There is fight in Attorney George Nelms Wise, of Newport News, who is seeking, in behalf of certain property interests in the vicinity of the island, to have Norfolk and Portsmouth deprived of its use.

The matter will result should the government rescind its order for the abandonment of the island, Mr. Wise said.

Fight Just Begun.
"The fight will just begin,"

Asked what his next step in the fight would be, he said:
"I don't know," but only an evasive answer and that he has fully made up his mind to take another, or several more steps in the matter if necessary, and that he knows just what that step will be. Further than that he would not discuss the matter.

Mr. Wise was in Norfolk yesterday and again the day before, and he was at work on the Craney Island matter. He has also been in Washington much of late in the interests of his clients. In the national capital he is lending his influential friends for the retention of the island. And it would not be surprising to those at all familiar with the situation to find out that the lawyer's famous friend, John S. Wise, of New York, is one not entirely without influence in the national capital, is assisting him in the fight.

In Norfolk Council.

The matter was taken up by the Norfolk Common Council last night, and a resolution providing for a strong committee, representing the business as well as the political interest of the city, to go to Washington to urge the retention of the island for pestilential purposes, was passed. The committee, to whom the matter has been referred by the Navy Department for report thereon, the importance of keeping the island as a pest station.

Provided Mr. Wise should be defeated in Washington, it is regarded as certain that the city will take the matter to the United States courts.
Asked if he would take the matter into court, he said: "I cannot say now." Mr. Wise desires to get possession of the island for his clients by peaceful means, and he is not willing to have the matter brought before the navy yard for it, and further wants the government to build a connection between the island and the mainland, where is situated the property interests represented by himself; and it is alleged that for these reasons, more than a mere desire to enforce the abandonment of the island as a pest station, Mr. Wise is moved to action.

They met in front of the beautifully decorated chancel, and were married by the rector, the Rev. T. H. Jaeger.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardaway left at once for Washington and points north.

Neal for Postmaster.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) DANVILLE, VA., June 8.—Colonel James M. Neal is a possibility for the office of postmaster of Danville. While he has made no official announcement of his candidacy, he does not deny that several of his friends have interested themselves in his behalf, and gone so far as to endorse him to President Roosevelt. Colonel Neal was postmaster here under the last administration of Grover Cleveland, and was succeeded by Mr. C. T. Barksdale, the incumbent. Colonel Neal makes five aspirants in the field, with a strong possibility of more entering later on.

The couple left on the evening train for Washington, where they will make their home.

FREE EDUCATION FOR AMHERST GIRLS

Board of Trustees Decide to Throw Open Doors for the County.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) AMHERST, VA., June 8.—The Board of Trustees of Sweetbrier Institute to-day decided to make tuition free to Amherst girls. No daughter of a citizen of Amherst will have to pay any tuition there. This means a saving of about two hundred dollars to Amherst girls, as this is about what the tuition will cost. It was further decided to open the school on the first of September, 1936.
A meeting will be held July 2d, to finish the election of professors. Miss Benedict, the newly elected president, was absent from the meeting which was held here. The total expenses of a girl at the school will be about $400 for one session. It is about the same, it is claimed, as it costs at other schools of the Sweetbrier class.

TERRIFIC STORM.

Telephone System Badly Damaged in Mecklenburg County.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) SMITH'S CROSS, VA., June 8.—The worst electric storm seen in this section for many years came Wednesday night, and did much damage to the telephone system. The Farmers and Merchants' Telephone Company, as well as the switchboard at this place, are in a very bad condition, and it will be several days before connections can be restored. A horse belonging to Charles Alexander was struck and instantly killed. A colored woman, named Eliza Jones, living about six miles west of here, was struck, and very much shocked. There seems to be very little hopes of her recovery.

SKULL CRUSHED AND LEGS BROKEN

Young Man at Claremont Hurlled From a Gallery by Revolving Belt.

OPERATED ON IN PETERSBURG

A Portion of His Brain Lost in Trepanning—Memorial Exercises at Blandford.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, VA., June 8.—Howard Sommers, who was brought up the Appomattox River from Claremont at 12 o'clock last night on a special tug, with his skull severely fractured and both legs broken, received his injuries in Shelton's box factory at Claremont late in the afternoon while attempting to put a belt on a rapidly revolving pulley. The attack with which the boy attempted to manipulate the belt caught in the pulley, hurling him from a gallery headlong amidst a pile of wooden bolts on the floor. Sommers was operated on at the Home for the Sick about 2 o'clock this morning, the skull being so badly fractured that a small quantity of brain matter was lost in the operation of trepanning. He is seventeen years old, and a son of W. H. Sommers.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Memorial day exercises at Blandford Cemetery at six o'clock this afternoon were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. J. M. Pilecher, formerly commander of A. F. H. Camp, who followed by Mayor William H. Jones, introducing in a brief speech Rev. R. W. Barnwell, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Mr. Barnwell made a beautiful address from brief notes on "The Glory of the Cause and of the Struggle."

Comprehensively outlining the principles of Southern rights, which he declared to be as just a cause as mortal men ever had, and one that was not lost, but was to-day being proven and sustained. He paid high tribute to the ability of Lincoln and Grant, who, he said, by the aid of the younger generation to emulate their example as one of the most precious heritages of the war.

SOUTHERN GENIUS.

The speaker emphasized the great influence of Southern genius in developing the art of war, both on the field and on the sea, and paid due tribute to the heroism of the Petersburg troops at the battle of the Crater, and at the repulse of Kautz's cavalry attack, June 9, 1864. After the address the Grays fired three volleys over the graves of the Confederates, and the parade took up the march to town.

FAREWELL SERVICE.

William and Mary Students Elect Athletic Officials.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WILLIAMSBURG, VA., June 8.—The closing chapel services of the session of 1935-1936 of William and Mary College were held this morning. In concluding the services, Dr. J. L. Hall made a short but very touching address, bidding the students good-bye on behalf of the faculty, and wishing them every success in life. The scene was a very touching one. The old familiar hymn, "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," was sung, moving many of the students to tears.

An athletic meeting was held, and the following officers elected: President, C. B. Ransome; vice-president, S. A. McDonald; secretary and treasurer, J. N. Hubbard; executive committee, J. W. Topping, H. P. Wall, and G. T. Somers.

He has the power of attorney for the holders of the mortgages and the creditors of the school. An effort will probably be made to form a stock company and re-open the institute next fall.

Those "Tailorish" Fads that the young man of the period craves in his dress—will he find them at the average tailor's?

Of course not. Why? Because the average tailor's knowledge of style is bounded by the four walls of his shop.

We show every tailorish fad that reigns this day in New York, the acknowledged fashion center of the country. That's where our clothes are cut—that's why you may be sure that they're in tune with the freshest and most advanced mode.

WILLIAMS MAY TAKE UNIVERSITY CHAIR

Baltimore to deliver an address at the commencement of Bryn Mawr College, and hence could not be communicated with. The one or two professors of the faculty who were seen stated that as far as they knew there was no truth in the rumor.

However, President Alderman has made one or two flying trips to Washington recently. The last was on Thursday of last week, and it is barely possible that the trip had some connection with the report in circulation.

The minority leader of the House is a devoted alumnus of the University, and he held in high esteem here. At the St. Louis Exposition Mr. Williams delivered an able address on the University, which was highly complimented by President Alderman and members of the faculty. The speech was put in pamphlet form and given wide distribution.

TRIAL OF FIRST "SHANGHAI" CASES

Captain Marsh, of the Ethel Ruth, Found Guilty by a Jury.

CIVIL ACTION IS ALSO PENDING

Counsel for the Defendant Has Asked for a Stay of Judgment.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., June 8.—The trial of the first of the famous "Shanghai" cases in the United States District Court resulted in a victory for the government, the jury in the case of W. H. March, of Reidsville, which went to trial yesterday, returning a verdict to-day against the defendant.

It is true that the defendant was convicted on but one of the two counts in the indictment on which he was tried, but the count on which he was convicted was far the more serious of the two—that of assaulting and unlawfully detaining William H. Gallagher aboard his oyster boat, the Ethel Ruth.

The offense is a serious one, but the punishment for it is left virtually to the discretion of the court. It may be punishable by imprisonment for five years or less, or by a fine of $5,000 or $10, or by both and imprisonment.

Counsel for the defendant asked for a stay of judgment, on the ground that the verdict of the jury was contrary to law and evidence.

There is yet a civil action pending against March, instituted by Gallagher, for $10,000 damages, growing out of his treatment on the boat. It is probable that the same evidence that convicted March in the criminal case will be effective against him in the civil case.

The count on which March was found not guilty alleged that he did not furnish Gallagher with proper food. That was the third count in the indictment. The second count was abandoned by Assistant District Attorney Talley without trial.

The Storm in New Kent.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PLATON, VA., June 8.—During a terrible thunder-storm yesterday evening lightning struck and killed a fine horse for Mrs. James Goddin. Mr. Goddin, who had put the horse in the stable and had gotten only about ten feet away when the horse was struck, Mr. Goddin was knocked down and seriously injured.

During the same storm Mr. L. Borough's house was struck by lightning, the chimney demolished and a lot of the weather boarding blown off. A good many trees were thrown across the roads.

TRUE BILLS AGAINST ELECTION OFFICERS

Selph, W. D. Gay, H. T. Adams, and L. H. Cooke.

Not Long Waiting.

Promptly at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, the grand jury reported themselves for work. After a short session in their secret chamber, they returned to the court-room and the foreman made known the result of the investigation. The indictments, which had been prepared by Commonwealth Attorney Milford Polke, were against the three election officers jointly. There was no mention of the number of voters who testified that they had cast their ballots either for or against Mr. Selph in the election.

The indictment against the men is somewhat lengthy, running through closely-written pages of foolscap, with six counts. In the first count, the charge is made of removing ballots from the box, and substituting others marked differently from those dropped in by the voters. The second charge the officers with making a false canvass before the Board of Canvassers.

In the third count, the men are charged with illegally allowing some person or persons unknown to the jury to change ballots which had been cast by the voters, and of allowing certain persons to destroy and substitute other ballots.

In the fourth, the officers are charged with signing a certificate and returning it to the City Democratic Committee, saying that Mr. Selph had received a smaller number of votes than were cast for him.

The fifth count makes the charge that certain ballots marked for Mr. Selph were marked for some one else, and the sixth count sums up the whole matter and charges the three men with cheating and defrauding at the primary election. In the fifth count, the charge is made of signing a false certificate and returning the same to the City Democratic Committee against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth.

Very Probably Nominated.

While no report of the number of votes which were polled for Mr. Selph was made by the jury, it is stated that he had secured more than half the votes accredited to him by the election books. Some, indeed, assert that Mr. Selph was the recipient of more than enough to give him the nomination to the Council above Mr. Gates.

As to the trial of the three indicted men they will appear before Judge Witt on July 3d, and the date will then be set. It is possible that the trial will be postponed till the September term of the court, or even later. The election officers are much worked up over the indictment against them, and all three are unanimous in declaring that a trial of the case will only result in their conviction.
